Tackling Indigenous Smoking 2023-26 Program Logic

Input	Activities	Outputs	Short-term Outcomes	Medium-term Outcomes	Long-term Outcomes
			OUTCOMES
Regional Grants Population Health Promotion	TIS Teams run evidence-based, population health tobacco and vape control activities	All intended audiences are reached by evidence-based information or messages about: — harms of tobacco and e-cigarette use — benefits of resisting uptake — benefits of quitting — benefits of smoke free environments	All intended audiences have greater knowledge about: — harms of tobacco and e-cigarette use — benefits of resisting uptake — benefits of quitting — benefits of smoke free environments ▲	All intended audiences intend to: — avoid uptake of tobacco and/or e-cigarettes — take steps towards cessation of tobacco and/or e-cigarettes — avoid second smoke and create smoke free environments ▲	In the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander population there will be: — Reductions in the uptake of tobacco and e-cigarettes — Increases in the number and length of quit attempts — Increases in the number of smokefree environments ▲
	TIS Teams build partnerships with other providers	Strong partnerships between TIS Teams and other stakeholders	Organisations/individuals understand the TIS program and how they can engage with TIS teams to support tobacco and e-cigarette control ○	Organisations/individuals are motivated/intend to engage with TIS teams to support tobacco and e-cigarette control ○	Organisations/individuals provide support for TIS tobacco and e-cigarette control ○
	TIS Teams support advocacy	Involvment of organisations outside of TIS team consortiums in TIS leadership or advocacy in tobacco and e-cigarette control	Organisations/community members understand how to take a leadership role in and advocate for tobacco and/or e-cigarette control ○	Organisations/community members are motivated/intend to lead and advocate for tobacco and/or e-cigarette control ○	Organisations/community members lead and advocate for tobacco and/or e-cigarette control ○
	TIS Teams work with communities	Co-designed activities that reflect input from the community	Community members recognise that their input has shaped TIS tobacco and/or e-cigarette control activities ○	The community is motivated to participate in TIS tobacco and/or e-cigarette control activities ○	The community participates in and feels ownership of TIS population health promotion activities ○
Access to Quit Support	TIS Teams promote quit support	All intended audiences receive information about quit support	All intended audiences have increased awareness of quit support ▲	All intended audiences have increased motivation to access quit support ▲	Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples use quit support more frequently ▲
	TIS Teams build partnerships with quit support providers	Referal pathways are established	All members of TIS teams have awareness of referral pathways to quit support ▣	All TIS team members intend to use referral pathways to quit support ▣	TIS teams refer community members to quit support ▣
National Supports (National Best Practice Unit, National Coordinator, Department of Health and Aged Care and Community Grants Hub)	NBPU, National Coordinator and Health support TIS Teams to: — use evidence — achieve full reach — use local knowledge — monitor and evaluate their work	TIS Teams are exposed to information about: — evidence-based population health promotion approaches — how to target all intended audiences — eligible and ineligible activities — how to monitor and evaluate their activities — how and why to draw on local knowledge when designing activities	TIS Teams know more about: — evidence-based population health promotion approaches — how to target all intended audiences — eligible and ineligible activities — how to monitor and evaluate their activities — how and why to draw on local knowledge when designing activities ▣	TIS Teams intend to: — use evidence-based population health promotion approaches — target all intended audiences — only implement eligible activities — monitor and evaluate their activities — draw on local knowledge when designing activities ▣	TIS Teams: — apply evidence-based population health promotion approaches — target all intended audiences — only implement eligible activities — monitor and evaluate their activities — draw on local knowledge when designing activities ▣
	NBPU, National Coordinator and Health provide support and leadership to TIS Grant Recipients	Regular and frequent contact between TIS Teams and National Supports	TIS Grant recipient organisations understand: — how to implement their grants appropriately — the importance of leadership and advocacy for tobacco and/or e-cigarette control — population health promotion approaches ▣	TIS Grant recipient organisations are motivated to: — implement their grants appropriately — lead and advocate for tobacco and e-cigarette control — use population health promotion approaches ▣	TIS Grant recipient organisations : — implement their grants appropriately — lead and advocate for tobacco and e-cigarette control — use population health promotion approaches ▣
	National Coordinator provides leadership and advocacy in tobacco control	National and state stakeholders are exposed to information about the need for tobacco and e-cigarette control measures and policies that reflect Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander culture and values	National and state stakeholders are aware of the need for tobacco and e-cigarette control measures and policies that reflect Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander culture and values ★	National and state stakeholders are motivated to lead and support tobacco and e-cigarette control measures and policies that reflect Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander culture and values ★	National and state stakeholders lead and support tobacco and e-cigarette control measures and policies that reflect Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander culture and values ★

Stakeholders key: ○ Organisations or community members outside of TIS Teams   ▲ All Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples   ▣ TIS teams   ★ National and state stakeholders